Jail for drunk M-way coach crash driver

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE drunken driver of a coach which overturned at Newport Pagnell Services on the M1 has been jailed for ten months.

Leslie Weinberg, 35, had been on an all-night drinking binge before he stepped into the driver's seat of the 777 National Express service from Birmingham to Stansted on September 3 last year.

Passengers reported that the driver pulled sharply into the southbound slip road for the service station and smashed into a kerb at high speed, flipping the coach onto its side and injuring 28 passengers.

At Aylesbury Crown Court yesterday Weinberg was sentenced to 10 months in prison, handed a four year driving ban and fined £500.

Judge Christopher Tyrer said: "You were a public service vehicle driver entrusted by a well-known company to drive passengers from one place to another safely.

"In this instance the weak link was you.

"You knew that you were deprived of adequate rest or sleep and you had taken on large amounts of alcohol.

"That impaired your judgement and your ability to drive safely. This was a terrifying accident which has caused serious injury to a number of people who entrusted their well-being to you. You betrayed their confidence, as you did their trust."

Ten months inside: Coach driver Leslie Weinberg

The court heard that the coach was travelling at around 57mph just before it entered the slip road at 4pm.

Alan Blake, prosecuting, said: "The defendent thought he was taking the exit for Junction 14.

"Passengers recall the feeling of the vehicle becoming air borne and glass shattering.

"One passenger who was not restrained by a seatbelt recalls the top part of his body hanging out of the window and his body smashing into the ground."

The man suffered multiple injuries including a broken femur, broken ribs and a severed artery in his arm.

Of the 33 passengers, five were seriously injured, 16 required hospital treatment and 12 were treated at the scene.

Weinberg, of Meadow Avenue, West Bromwich, had to be cut free from his seat and was arrested when police noticed alcohol on his breath.

Breath tests showed 145 milligrammes of alcohol in 100 milliletres of his blood at the time of the crash, one-and-a-half times over the legal limit.

Weinberg admitted he had been drinking pints of IPA beer and cans of lager and had not gone to bed until five am that morning.

In a statement read out by his barrister, Weinberg said: "There has not been a day which has gone by when I have not reflected on what happened.

"I apologise to those passengers and to my family unreservedly for what I have put them through."

Speaking outside the court, Roads Policing Inspector Robert Jarrett said: "He will also have to live with the consequences of his actions that day but additionally he has lost his livelihood and now lost his liberty.

"Drinking and driving is a crime. There can be no excuses.

"You are risking not only your own life but the lives of other road users."

Operatic treat for shoppers

SHOPPERS were treated to opera at lunch yesterday.

Members of the Russian State Opera of Siberia including soloists, a pianist and violinists entertained the crowds at Midsummer Place.

The company is in the city along with the Russian State Ballet Orchestra performing three productions La Traviata, Madam Butterfly and La Boheme at Milton Keynes Theatre from Monday.

Ceri Griffin cycling and walking development officer and boss Richard Duffill

It's 'on yer bike' to £11m cycling cash

CYCLISTS have been left deflated after losing out on millions of pounds to improve cycing in the city.

The city made it to the shortlist of 16 potential 'cycling towns' but not to the final 12, being pipped to the post by the likes of Leighton Buzzard, Bristol and Colchester in receiving a slice of the £100 million Government grant.

Transport experts say it is a set back, meaning projects designed to entice people out of their cars and onto their bikes will take ten years instead of the three they forecast. The successful applicants, chosen from 75 cities and towns, received up to £11million each to improve facilities.

Plans for Milton Keynes included extending and improving its existing 270km of redways as well as raising awareness about the benefits of biking.

Richard Duffill, who oversees cycling at Milton Keynes Council, was confident their bid would succeed and is baffled by the outcome.

"It is very disappointing. We just don't understand why we didn't succeed. We submitted a document saying how we would get more people cycling – with cycle training, priority routes with a super redway and a boost to advertising to raise awareness.

"What we wanted to do was fill in the missing links on the redways, such as on Saxon Street and on the H3.It was an opportunity to speed our projects up.

"Now what would have taken three years with the grant will take ten years. But we are going to prove them wrong and show them we are a cycling city."

Credit crunch slows city housing build to a crawl

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE rate of housing growth in Milton Keynes has slowed down.

A council report says that parts of the Western Expansion will not start selling this year or next year and infrastructure provision will be delayed due to the 'downturn in the property market'.

'The time-scale for commencing work on site is currently uncertain, as it is dependent on the property market improving,' it says.

Between January and March this year 517 houses were completed - considerably fewer than in the previous two quarters where 758 and 777 were finished.

Council leader Isobel McCall, says she is 'worried' about the slowdown.

And Milton Keynes Partnership (MKP) which oversees new builds in the expansion area, is cautiously monitoring the monthly figures.

However, the quango says the lack of completions is because of an unexpected influx of planning applications and they are in constant dialogue with developers to ensure targets are met.

Currently of the 14,411 properties that have received outline planning permission from MKP, 3,358 of the applications have had the details of their plans approved and just 619 have been completed.

Milton Keynes's growth agenda states that, to achieve 70,000 new homes by 2031 – the Government's target to make Milton Keynes one of the ten largest cities in the country – requires 3,000 dwellings to be built per year.

Though MKP Committee's target figure in 2008/09 is 2,400, just 1,560 of these are expected to be completed. 1,700 homes have been started on site.

But the body says this is 'a reasonable figure given current market conditions'.

House Builders' Federation spokesman Steve Turner said that MK's slowdown is a reflection of the national 'economic struggle', where 190,000 home completions last year have reduced to 120,000.

And although MKP party forward funds infrastructure works, city MP Mark Lancaster is worried about the impact on the city's facilities which are primarily paid for by the MK tariff – £18,500 for each new home built.

"It think it was a mistake to put all our eggs in one basket, the Milton Keynes tariff," he said.

"Now there is an economic slowdown it is clear that we are going to get a small amount of what Milton Keynes needs."

Cllr McCall added: "My understanding is that it is slowing down and people at MKP have been saying the same. Certainly there are concerns.

"Are investors coming to Milton Keynes? It affects the whole city. House builders have pulled back

"It's clear them some of the big builders working in Milton Keynes will be affected and this is bound to have an impact. Clearly I'm worried about the effects of the economy and worried about tariff money coming in."

A spokesman for MKP said: "We will continue to monitor housing and employment site delivery over the coming year, and is adopting flexible business approaches to keep the market supply going."

Five year's jail for thumb chop gang

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MOTHER and son who kidnapped a man and chopped off his thumb have been jailed for five years.

Wheelchair-bound C J Gulwell, 45, of Franklins Croft, Wolverton, was found guilty of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm after admitting to kidnapping Craig Green over a drugs debt.

On Friday she was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court along with her 24-year-old son, Jason Gulwell, Luke Gates, 18, and Andrew Brown, 18.

Each received a total of five years imprisonment.

The grisly crime occurred on November 1 last year when the victim was driven to the tenth tee at Woburn Golf and Country Club and stripped to his underpants before having the top part of his thumb removed with a hammer and chisel.

Gates and Brown were found guilty of kidnapping and wounding with intent to cause GBH and sentenced to five years in a young offenders' institute.

Jason Gulwell pleaded guilty to both charges and was sentenced to four years for kidnapping and five for wounding with intent, to be served concurrently.

He will have to serve a minimum of five years in prison.

The court heard Mr Green had been lured to C J Gulwell's house where he was accused of stealing £4,000 of cannabis and owing her money for a car.

She announced they were 'going for a trip' and Mr Green was marched out of the house to her car.

Prosecution lawyer Michael Fowler QC said: "He was kidnapped and assaulted in the most barbaric of ways."

He said that although C J Gulwell stayed behind in the car that she knew what was going to happen and it was her revenge being carried out.

The court heard that it took more than six attempts to cut off the thumb.

Craig Green was left with permanent damage to his eye socket and the nerves on his left side of the face after the beating he received from Jason Gulwell and Gates in the rear of the car.

He is undergoing constructive surgery and will need a prosthetic thumb.

Last month C J Gulwell's sister, Sue Gulwell, told MK NEWS that her sister should be jailed for life.

Government hands city £361k to combat Islamic extremism

MILTON Keynes has joined places like Luton, Leicester and Bedford, in being given hundreds of thousands of pounds to combat Islamic extremism.

As part of the Prevent Violent Extremism programme, Milton Keynes Council will be handed £361,000 by the Government.

It will be distributed as £105,000, £125,000 and £131,000 over the next three years, the same as in nearby Bedford.

The Department for Communities and Local Government says the money, also being distributed to Luton, Peterborough, Watford, Nottingham and Northampton, is based on the number of Muslim inhabitants in each area.

Isobel McCall, leader of the council, said she doesn't think Milton Keynes necessarily needs the money, but it will be spent wisely nevertheless.

"The money is about ensuring people in Muslim communities don't feel excluded and to dissipate radical people locally.

"We don't know that there are extremists. But it is to ensure terrorism doesn't built up.

"This is a government agenda. I'd prefer we spend the money on other things."

However, Mudhir Noor of the Milton Keynes Muslim Association, the sort of group which stands to benefit from the money, said the funds would be useful for community cohesion.

"Everyone knows there are some tensions," he said.

MP Phyllis Starkey also believes the money is necessary.

"It does not imply that there is extremism here," she said.

"The council are currently considering the most effective way of spending it. It is done on the basis of parts of the country with significant proportion of people from ethnic minorities. It is not like we are like Luton."

The council is currently deciding on how the money will be used to isolate, prevent and defeat violent extremism in Muslim communities.

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

He read it here first

SIR –Your headline and the opening of your story recently claiming that seven schools had been put on hold or withdrawn is totally incorrect.

You were quoting a council paper from last February when this was indeed the case, but you have omitted to read your own paper of May 21 (page 11, headed Schools cash cack) which reported that the council had won £28 million from the government to go ahead with these schools.

The schools now funded to be built over the next three years (subject in some cases to consultation) include two new primary schools on the western and eastern flanks, a third primary school in Newton Leys, an extension to Middleton Primary, the new Rickley school, the first phase of a new secondary school on the western flank and a new Music Centre.

Every new primary school that is built will include a nursery.

£2.8 million has been put aside for maintenance and improvements to existing schools.

We are also†finalising plans for†an additional four schools on the eastern and western flanks where†design work†will start in 2010/11.

Nameless stooge

SIR – The letter headlined 'Vote changer' in your June 18 edition gives me considerable cause for concern.

Not because of its content, as that is the sort of rubbish I would now expect the Liberal Democrats to put out having managed to keep their failed leader in power following the capitulation by the spineless Labour group.

What concerns me is that you published this anonymously.

In a democratic society everyone's view is entitled to be heard but when a party stooge is used to make political comment it should not be done behind a cloak of secrecy.

Your own conditions state 'Details will be withheld in only exceptional circumstances' I would like to know what circumstances you considered exceptional enough to hide this correspondent's identity.

We always knew this Lib Dem administration had no honour, except for Euan Henderson, who resigned, but now it seems they have no guts either, hiding behind a nameless puppet.

Hospital bedlam

SIR – I was recently admitted to Milton Keynes Hospital as an emergency with a hip dislocation.

After an X-ray and assessment I was put in the 'trauma ward' awaiting treatment the following morning. This ward had already been supplied with the new beds mentioned in your article headed 'Change of beds at hospital' June 18. The bed was very comfortable but the nursing staff had not been trained on how to operate the controls.

As a result the bed I was in 'locked' while a nurse was trying to adjust my position.

The nurse had to find the operating manual to find out how to unlock the controls and continue the adjustment required.

However as a patient having had five hip replacements in three different hospitals, I found that there was a very important piece of equipment missing from the bed, namely a 'monkey pole'.

Patients with serious injuries of the hips or legs were unable to adjust their lying positions without nursing assistance as I found.

The slight movement that the 'monkey pole' allows prevents bed sores and other discomforts and allows bedding to be changed more efficiently.

In fact a patient in a bed opposite me, who had just had a hip replacement, was trying to manoeuvre himself into a more comfortable position and crashed out of bed falling to the floor disconnecting most of his leads, and sending coffee flying over the patient in the next bed.

It took six nurses with a hoist over half-an-hour to manoeuvre the patient back into bed. This represented three lost nursing hours which they could ill afford.

Fortunately the patient didn't seem to sustain any injury but it delayed his recovery by a day.

Had he had the use of a 'monkey pole' I believe the incident would have been avoided.

Finally I would like to compliment the nursing staff on their professionalism and caring nature despite the rude and ignorant attitude of some of the patients in the 'trauma' ward.

The way the nurses were treated was quite appalling.

Baffledegook

SIR – We have just purchased a shared ownership property for my son.

I have so far arranged to have water and gas meters installed, and various other transactions without once being told that my son would have to speak to them personally, but the following conversation with my local council has left me baffled

Me: "Good morning, my son has recently moved into a property and I would like to pay over the telephone for garden waste collection. He already has a bin which has been left by the previous occupant."

Local Council: "I am sorry, but he has to ring to set up an account"

Me: "But I want to pay now, can't I just give you his name and address."

LC: " No he will have to contact us himself because of data protection"

Me: "We own the property it is in our names."

LC: "sorry can't be done unless he rings us, but you can pay on your card if you are with him when he telephones."

Me: "What checks do you do to prove it is him telephoning."

LC: "None."

Me: "So my husband can telephone and say he is my son and you wouldn't know otherwise"

LC: "If he did that he would be making a false statement."

Me: (jokingly) "What if I speak in a low voice."

LC: (something like) " I am not treating this as a joke"

Me: "Sorry, thanks for your help."

No wonder fly tipping is on the increase.

Name and address supplied

Percentage game

SIR – I congratulate the education minister for naming and shaming the under-achieving secondary schools in England and three of the schools are in Milton Keynes.

Radcliffe school got better results in GCSEs (20 per cent) than the other two schools Leon (16 per cent) and Frank Markham (9 per cent).

Leon and Sir Frank Markham schools got good Ofsted reports.

On the other hand Ofsted was critical of Radcliffe School performance. Is an Ofsted report a reliable bench mark for the school performance rather than exam results?

It has been found that schools that had bad Ofsted reports did better than the schools with good Ofsted reports in GCSE results.

One thing that concerns me is that all the three schools have a high percentage of black and Asian children and most of the Asian parents do not speak good English.

It would be interesting to know how many black and Asian children got five good GCSE grades, including English and Maths, from the three schools last year.

Special day

SIR – Regarding the opening of Walnuts School.

Its was great event and excellent to have Peter Winkelman there opening this much needed special school. The children loved meeting Pete and he is a great ambassador for Milton Keynes and the MK Dons.

Carol Head
Walnuts School governor

Sporting chance

SIR – Your continued support/reporting of MK Dons is very disappointing.

Why did you not support or get behind MK City when this local club was non-league football?

Surely from your point of view, building a team up and progressing up the football pyramid would have been an excellent advert, not just for football, but Milton Keynes.

Instead MK Dons formed in a completely different way. Let's start with the Peter Winkelman's 'infectious enthusiasm' for league football, surely you can see this is a joke? When asked: 'why did you not invest your money into a local non-league club?' he looked bewildered and said: 'but that could take years – MK needs professional football now'. Surely you accept this completely misses the point.

A single bullet point for you to remember when reporting about this team: Wimbledon FC was killed off in order to facilitate a multi-million pound property deal by Charles Koppel (then Wimbledon chairman) and Pete Winkelman.

I'm currently studying to become a sports reporter and live in Milton Keynes, but have made the ethical decision to never report on MK Dons. Instead I will travel to Wycombe or Oxford to support REAL football teams.

My fears are supported by thousands of true football supporters up and down the country.

Why has the Netherfield estate been left behind?

SIR – I bought my house on Farthing Grove in Netherfield a year ago and overall it is not a bad place to live; regardless of what some people may think.

The problem is that there is a minority of complete idiots who give it a bad reputation and it's just pathetic.

I'd also love to know what their so-called parents think of what they do at night and just what their future holds; no doubt endless days spent drinking away thier benefit cheques and being of absolutely no use to anyone.

The problem with Netherfield, which I don't think helps the area, is it's delapidated state.

I moved to Milton Keynes nearly 20 years ago and remember the days when the estate really was a no-go area. It has improved dramatically with so-called 'problem tenants' being evicted, but the entire estate is in desperate need of regeneration.

I'm certain the metal-clad houses in particular were only meant as temporary means of accomodation as the city of MK was being built, yet here we are 25 years later and apart from the roofs being changed, they remain the same.

Until people have pride in where they live, mindless idiots like this will always be present; Unless chav-hunting becomes a national sport that is....

Milton Keynes is the fastest developing city in Europe; why has Netherfield been left behind?

New 'skin' for award-winning MK G

THIS is the latest Milton Keynes Gallery exhibition currently turning heads.

Richard Woods' Flora & Fauna exhibition starts on Friday and includes this striking exterior commission which cloaks the building in a 'skin' of imaginary logos.

It is the artist's first solo show in a British public gallery and the exhibition, which runs until September 21, includes new sculptures, wall-based ceramic works, approximately 40 paintings and a remarkable printed woodcut floor covering the entire ground floor of the gallery.

Our picture taken on Monday shows the final touches being put to the installation.

The gallery has also scooped an award for its MK Forty Tower.

It picked up the 2008 LABC (Local Authority Building Control) Central Region Built-in Quality Award for Best Structural Innovation.

This award recognises either an individual or an organisation that has a new way of complying with building regulations with a new design or technological innovation.

Constructed in 2007, Milton Keynes Gallery commissioned award-winning architects dRMM to make a temporary public artwork in celebration of Milton Keynes' 40th anniversary year.

It is still attracting great attention.

Last summer, almost 5,500 visitors climbed the 101 steps to the upper viewing platform to see the views of the cityscape and surrounding countryside.

The tower is now closed, but the gallery is in discussions with The Parks Trust about moving the artwork to another MK location.

Use of spy cameras defended by council

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

IS Big Brother watching you?

Not according to Milton Keynes Council who this week received a letter from the Local Government Association (LGA) warning against over eagerness in using its surveillance powers.

Chairman of the LGA, Sir Simon Milton, said it is dangerous to use the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act (RIPA) for 'trivial offences'.

Milton Keynes Council was issued guidance in 2007 warning that it 'should not use a sledgehammer to crack a nut' with its new-found powers.

During the past three years it says it has used the piece of legislation, which requires authorisation for covert surveillance, around 50 times.

A Press Association survey of fewer than 10 per cent of councils showed that spying techniques were used 1,343 times.

The council also uses surveillance which does not require permission on a daily basis .

For example, in the last year 70 fixed penalty notices of £75 have been issued for littering by enforcement officers, eight of which have gone to court.

The council owns 40 fixed CCTV cameras, eight mobile ones, a CCTV van and several on their blocks of flats.

A council spokesman said these are vital in detecting law breakers. For instance, a person was recently reprimanded for repeated dog fouling while 48 others who were clearing their dogs' mess were praised.

The council also 'on occasion' examines the contents of people's black bin bags but insists it does not monitor the content of phone conversations or e-mails – just individuals and phone usage.

Council leader Isobel McCall said: "We have used that piece of legislation 50 times in the past three years, usually on things like fly-tipping, which tend to annoy local residents.

"Cameras watching people are used for the enforcement of ASBOs, taxis that are breaking the law – things to protect the public, not interfering in their private lives.

"It has to be reasonable. We haven't gone overboard.

"It is used when people are breaking the law."

The RIPA, an offshoot of the Human Rights Act, is meant to ensure privacy is only interfered with where it is legal and there is a public interest.

A council spokesman said using 'covert and overt surveillance' is necessary.

He added: "How many people, who are suffering from problems such as persistent litter, dog fouling, fly-tipping, anti social behaviour and other, more serious, criminal behaviour would really class these as 'trivial'?"

As chairman, her current mission alongside fellow MPs is to improve the provision of public toilets.

She is concerned about the state of the country's WCs claiming the lack of facilities and poor provisions need to be changed.

She said: "Lots are Victorian and expensive to maintain. Councils are not obliged to maintain them so they take the easy option and close them.

"It is a big issue for elderly people, families with children and disabled people.

"We've had amazing evidence nationally of people get trapped in their homes because there are no public toilets to use when they go out.

"Another issue is when pubs close, people are out on the streets, urinating in gardens and worse. It is very unpleasant."

Last week she took a tour of Richmond, London with her colleagues to see a scheme that allows businesses to open their toilets to the public.

Praised: The Changing Places toilet in the centre:mk

She praises certain lavatories in MK, such as the Changing Places toilet in the centre:mk which includes a hoist, changing facility, non-slip floor and a screen for disabled shoppers and their carers.

Jelly wrestling student Nadia Witkowski was arrested after punching a spectator. Below nadia under arrest

Student throws a wobbly at jelly fight

A BIKINI-CLAD university student was arrested after punching a female spectator because she lost a jelly wrestling match.

Cambridge student Nadia Witkowski, 23, from Milton Keynes, threw a wobbly after she was out-muscled in a red jelly-filled paddling pool during 'Suicide Sunday', a notorious end of year drinking party.

Witkowski, who had just graduated from Trinity College, flipped when the crowd booed her at the garden party for 1,000 students.

She punched a girl dressed as a butterfly in the face, leaving her with a bloody nose, before grabbing a bottle of wine and fleeing for the exit.

Two bouncers blocked her path but she lashed out again as they tried to restrain her.

Smeared with jelly and wearing a white bikini, Witkowski refused to calm down and security called in police to the party in Trinity Old Fields, Cambridge, at 1.30pm on Sunday (June 15).

Witkowski was arrested and later received a caution for common assault.

The 'Blazers and Bikinis' bash was the 79th 'Suicide Sunday' party organised by the Wyverns – an infamous all male Magdalene College drinking society.

One eyewitness said: "The crowd gets to choose the victor by cheering – the fighter with the loudest cheers wins. Nadia had been a bit aggressive and probably wasn't as attractive as the other girl, so she was booed although she'd probably been the better fighter.

> She went mad and punched a girl dressed as a butterfly standing at the edge of the crowd
> – Eyewitness

"She went mad and punched a girl dressed as a butterfly standing at the edge of the crowd.

"Then she grabbed a bottle of Lambrini and tried to escape."

The victim, who declined to be named, said Witkowski made a comment before lashing out in an 'unprovoked attack'.

Another eye-witness said: "The bouncer asked her to put the bottle aside and she just kicked off. She tried to headbutt one of the bouncers.

"She was still going for them so they had to call in reinforcements and sort of hold her down until the police came."

Four wrestlers were fighting for a £250 prize in a 6ft by 6ft paddling pool.

A Wyverns spokesman said: "Such behaviour is unacceptable and the person will not be admitted to future garden parties."

A spokesman for Cambridge University said the party may not be held next year in light of the incident.

He said: "As it was a matter that was dealt with by the police and the police have taken action regarding the individual involved we now regard the matter as closed."

Witkowski refused to comment.

'Eco-town' would strain local infrastructure

A PROPOSED 'eco-town' could have a 'major impact' on the growth of Milton Keynes, according to council planners.

Milton Keynes Council's cabinet was set to respond to a Government consultation on plans to build 10 eco-towns in England as MK NEWS went to press last night.

A shortlist of 15 possible sites has been drawn up, including two overlapping proposals in Marston Vale, between M1 junction 13 and Bedford.

The site is less than a mile away from the proposed South East expansion area of Milton Keynes and within 10 miles of the city centre.

The Government hopes the first schemes will start to be built in 2010.

Council officers have raised objections including the strain on hospitals, water supplies, roads and transport links.

Home comforts in 'The Living Room'

A NEW restaurant offering home comforts alongside elegant cuisine is to open at thehub:mk.

The Living Room will hold a special event for VIPs on Saturday night before opening its doors to the public for the official opening on Monday.

The new restaurant is the latest to join the dynamic new development of offices, hotels, retail outlets, cafes, bars/restaurants and apartments situated in the centre of Milton Keynes.

Based at Manhattan House on the corner of Witan Gate and Midsummer Boulevard, Living Room will feature a ground floor restaurant and bar together with a more formal second floor mezzanine restaurant. Outdoor heated terraces will be at the front and rear overlooking the Central Piazza.

The Living Room Group have been searching for a venue in the city for the past four years.

Managing director Danny Fox said: "We are delighted to be part of thehub:mk it is an exciting development for both Milton Keynes and ourselves and we're looking forward to what will be the first new The Living Room to open in over 2 years".

The restaurant offers a new menu every month, focusing on two broad types of cuisine; 'home comforts' and an elegant European/ global fusion.

WAGs and VIPs to get their own bar in city superclub's revamp

THE city's biggest nightclub has revealed its plans for a glamorous £2million makeover.

These photos reveal the new design for Oceana, at the Xscape building in the city centre, set to be completed by August 2008.

The six-room experience includes a total revamp of the former Ice House and Ski Lodge to create a new style 1,000 capacity Reykjavik Ice House, featuring a stark white interior, white leather seating areas, 360 degree video projection and a stage area.

Three VIP suites have also been introduced for private hire, including a bar, leather seating, plasma TV and private waitressing – all overlooking the dancefloor.

An entirely new addition to the three-floor venue will be the private VIP room, for those who want a glass of club's finest champagne, and will only be open at the manager's discretion.

Two new rooms include a Russian themed bar and a funky Rythm Room with a live DJ downstairs, while the Parisian Boudoir will be refurbished.

General manager, Mark Molton, said: "A lot of the features in the refurbishment have been created in response to customer feedback.

"Customers often request reserved seated areas and we will have nine booths available for reservation in the Ice House.

"Our VIPs and WAGs requested their own bar – we have designed a stunning and exclusive VIP bar.

"Our customers wanted to see more live personal appearances so a stage area has been included in the design."

Work on the three-month project has already begun but Oceana's New York Disco room will continue to trade as normal.

Win £250 of Laura Mercier make up

WIN £250 worth of fantastic Laura Mercier make up.

Raised in France, Laura Mercier began her training at age 17 when she entered painting school in Paris. After deciding to shift her talents from the canvas to the face, Mercier attended the Carita School where she specialized in make-up application. Before long she began working closely with Thibault Vabre, a well-known French makeup artist.

In 1985, Laura Mercier moved to New York when she was asked to join the team to launch American Elle. She immediately began working on editorial spreads for magazines including Elle, Vanity Fair, Glamour, and Seventeen. Mercier also began working with Madonna on her looks for print, television and film. Subsequently, she also worked with Chanel on the company's beauty advertising campaigns in France.

In 1996, Mercier developed her own line to benefit women of all ages and skin types. She personally created the colours to satisfy the needs of her clients, based on a classic and always-current palette, rather than seasonal trends only. The line, now in its eleventh year, is available in 400 stores in 21 countries and has expanded to include skincare, bath and body and fragrance lines.

For 11 years, Laura Mercier's philosophy is simple and has stayed the same. Making your skin look perfect is the first and most important thing you can do to achieve a truly great look. The key is to enhance your natural beauty - accentuate the positive.

Virtual school screens at a cinema near you

Free popcorn and a 3D trip around the yet-to-be-built academy in bid to woo pupils

MOST parents choosing a secondary school for their children will attend an open evening to look around the facilities – but most have never done it at the cinema.

A unique idea will give parents the chance to view the new Milton Keynes Academy on the big screen complete with a bag of popcorn.

The computer generated school tour is the first in the region, and possibly the whole of the UK, with the academy using the latest technology to provide both students and parents with an insight into what the new school is about.

"We obviously realised it was a huge problem trying to promote the new school when there is no school to see yet," explained principal Lorna Caldicott. We decided to get together with the architects, designers and IT experts to create a virtual tour. It gives a 3D look around the entire school so visitors can see the building and facilities inside; it's quite amazing."

The school is due to open in September 2009.

The academy staff have launched the virtual tour on their website at www.miltonkeynesacademy.co.uk.

While they have hired an entire cinema screen at Xscape for a 'school open evening' to show prospective pupils and their parents the building.

Any child who is currently in Year 5 can come along with an adult to watch the screenings on September 25 at Cineworld at 5.30pm to 6.30pm

Visitors will even get free popcorn while they enjoy the film.

"It's a really quirky way to launch a school but as an enterprising, forward thinking school we feel this is an excellent way to show parents and students what we will offer; we hope they will enjoy it," said Lorna.

She added: "I will be there to speak to parents and answer any questions."

Lessons in how to be a better biker

SKILL courses to teach motorcyclists how to get the best out of their machines and still remain safe are being run by Milton Keynes Council.

Bikers account for one in five of all fatal or seriously injured casualties on the roads yet make up only one per cent of traffic and over the last three years 71 motorcyclists have been killed or seriously injured on the roads in Milton Keynes.

To help deal with this problem that has seen two motorcyclists killed or seriously hurt every month on average, the council's road safety team is running two training days for bikers keen to have their riding skills assessed.

The 'Be a Better Biker' courses are to be held on Saturday, at Great Holm Fire Station, and Saturday, September 13 at Bletchley Fire Station.

The courses will consist of a fun classroom session, followed by an assessed ride on roads similar to where motorbike crashes have happened in the past.

Milton Keynes road safety officer Vince Morley said: "Sadly, we had some very serious crashes involving motorbikes last year in Milton Keynes.

"I ran a pilot scheme that was a tremendous success; we were more than twice oversubscribed and those bikers who did attend thoroughly enjoyed it and I had lots of very positive feedback.

"I said then that if it went well I would look to expand the scheme this year, and 'Be a Better Biker' is the result."

"This is not about learning to ride; it's for anyone with a bike licence who would benefit from an assessment of their riding, and you can never know it all!

"All the instructors are experienced and qualified motorcyclists; in short, they know what they are talking about."

The most common crashes involving motorbikes in Milton Keynes are where a car turns right across the path of a bike, and single bike incidents where the rider loses control on a bend or roundabout. Vince, a keen biker with over 25 years experience, added: "People can get into bad habits without realising it.

"Normally all it takes is for someone to point out to them what they've been doing wrong, and then they can correct it."

The course will be subsidised 50 per cent by MKC so the cost will be £30 per biker.

This will include all instruction and use of facilities; tea, coffee and biscuits; a certificate and a goody bag.

■ To apply for a place on one of the courses contact the road safety team on 01908 254601 or e-mail vince.morley@milton-keynes.gov.uk

MP is questioned on lowering voting age

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY MP has met with a local member of the youth parliament to support a campaign to reduce the voting age to 16.

Dr Phyllis Starkey, MP for Milton Keynes South East, spoke with Sheena Sodha, Milton Keynes' deputy member of UK Youth Parliament (UKYP) as part of her support for the Voting Age (Reduction) Bill 2008.

The bill, calling for the voting age to be lowered, had its second reading in Parliament on June 6 but has now gone back down the list of backbench bills, with little chance of progressing further.

Miss Sodha was given a chance to grill the MP about the campaign and other local issues.

In response to whether the age of adulthood should be lowered to 16 as well as the voting age, Dr Starkey said: "This is a more difficult issue; although young people are able to join the armed forces at age 16 they are not permitted to be in combat situations until they are aged 18.

"Since the livers and lungs of young people are more susceptible to damage from alcohol and tobacco there could be good reasons for different age limits on access to each of these."

Adult conversation: Dr Phyllis Starkey with Sheena Sodha

> Although young people are able to join the armed forces at age 16 they are not permitted to be in combat situations until they are aged 18
> – MP Phyllis Starkey whether the age of adulthood should be lowered

Miss Sodha also asked the MP about her plans to make transport more affordable for youngsters in Milton Keynes and what other UKYP campaigns she supports.

Dr Starkey said: "The UKYP campaign to ensure every young person has access to high standard sex and relationship education (SRE) is very important.

"Here in Milton Keynes, Brook provides excellent advice to young men and women about sex and relationship education, and some secondary schools have health workers available within the school to supplement SRE but we need this to be available to every young person."

To tackle bullying Dr Starkey suggested that every Neighbourhood Action Group should contain a young member so that the concerns of young people could be included in the NAG priorities.

After the meeting, Sheena Sodha told MK NEWS: "I hope that this will lead to a positive and ongoing partnership that will greatly improve the lives of young people in Milton Keynes."

Dr Starkey added: "I was very pleased to be able to meet Sheena, it was a great opportunity to discuss our roles in representing Milton Keynes.

"She is a bright and committed MYP and an example of why the voting age should be reduced."

Longer, healthier, happier lives for all

Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust (PCT) is responsible providing all community-based health services locally, including GPs, opticians, dentists and district nurses to a population of over 240,000 people. It spends more than £300 million each year.

The PCT aims to achieve 'Longer, happier, healthier lives for all' through:

Fighting infections. The deep clean programme was completed ahead of schedule. Four Modern Matrons ensure high standards of cleanliness;

More access to your GP. A new GP-led practice has been commissioned that will be open seven days a week, from 8am to 8pm. Anyone in the borough will be able to register there;

Hospital of YOUR choice. GPs helped make the PCT top in the UK for referrals made using the Choose and Book system, which is a national electronic referral service giving patients a choice of hospital, date and time for their first outpatient appointment;

More NHS dental services. Over 6,000 extra patients attended an NHS dentist last year. Nearly half of our dental practices are accepting new NHS patients. The PCT will spend an additional £350,000 in the next year on increasing dental access.

Promoting public health. The PCT has helped local people give up smoking and lose weight. Deaths from heart disease and cancer have been reduced.

The services provided by the PCT are locally driven, and they need the views and opinions of all local people to help shape these services. Do attend our public event to celebrate the 60th birthday of the NHS on 2 July at Stadium:MK.

Agonising weight for powerlifting hopeful

A POWERLIFTER'S hopes of representing Great Britain could be shattered due to a lack of funding.

Paul Lovett, 50, of Tulip Street, Fenny Stratford, has been asked to take part in the World Championships in America at the end of September.

But the cost of flying overseas, staying in a hotel for a week, paying the competition and a drug testing fee could all prove too costly and deny Paul the chance of fulfilling his dream.

The 50-year-old has already paid a small amount to the trip yet he needs £1,000 to guarantee his place in the competition.

Paul is desperate to go to California to represent his county after missing out in the European tournament earlier this year.

And the Fenny Stratford resident knows he is lucky to be given the chance in the World Championships after his next door neighbour nursed him back to health following two dislocations to his shoulder.

However, Paul does not live next door to your average curtain twitcher his neighbour is chiropractor Gary Jackson.

And it has been sessions with Gary that have seen Paul performances improve as he competes pain-free.

Gary, who is the official chiropractor for MK Dons, has put right a long line of injuries that have plagued his powerlifting days.

"I've had a lot of injuries because I was in the parachute regiment for almost 15 years," Paul explained, "I've had a lot of operations and as I've got older the old injuries have played a part in what I'm doing."

Gary added: "The amount of training that Paul does puts a lot of strain through his system, that's going to take its toll.

Chiropractor Gary Jackson supporting powerlifter Paul Lockett

"We didn't just get rid of the pain, we fine tuned his body. If a joint's not working as well as it should, the nerve inside that joint will tell muscles to react differently and that will affect performance."

Paul, who has recently won the British title for his 67 kilos over 50s division, had been suffering an agonising burning sensation down his left shoulder due to the blocking of two vertebrae in his neck.

After chiropractic, orthopaedic and neurological assessments work began on realigning Paul's pelvis before concentrating on his shoulder.

"I'm looking at balancing out the nerve supply to the shoulder, making sure the muscles that brace and strap the shoulder in place are functioning properly."

The chiropractor added: "I'm chuffed to bits with the way Paul has responded but I keep asking him to take up tiddlywinks and leave powerlifting alone."

It could become a real possibility if Paul fails to raise the money for the trip to America.

TV woodland walk vandalised

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A WOODLAND pathway which underwent an extensive makeover by the BBC's Springwatch team has been smashed and torched by vandals.

A team of volunteers from SWAT (Springwatch Action Teams) worked with locals from Downs Barn to build bridges, pathways, benches and wildlife shelters in the unloved area of woodland.

But just two weeks later mother-of-two Sarah Walker caught a group of youths smashing the furniture and throwing the logs in a river.

The police were called to the scene and identified some of the vandals but on Thursday the fire service had to be called when nearby residents spotted plumes of smoke pouring from the woods.

This time the offenders had set fire to areas of the wood and demolished a park bench.

Mrs Walker, of Byerly Place, said: "I heard a commotion in the woods and when I went over I saw them picking up the logs and throwing them into the river.

"The police went through the woods and caught the guys in an underpass, where they were sitting, drinking.

"My children helped to build a stag beetle house but it's been totally destroyed.

"Just as the people were trying to do something good as a community someone comes along and destroys it."

The volunteers, from BBC Three Counties Radio, the BTCV (British Trust for Conservation Volunteers) and Milton Keynes Council had spent four days transforming the litter-strewn woodland into a haven for nature.

Neves Vikings at full speed during last year's Dragon Boat Festival

Enter the dragon

Superhero theme marks biggest boatfest yet

WILLEN Lake hosts the seventh Milton Keynes Dragon Boat Festival this Sunday.

A record number of people, more than 1,250, will take to the water in 40ft brightly painted Chinese boats, watched by several thousand spectators.

To cope with the overwhelming demand this year, organisers Gable Events have increased the maximum entry to 60 crews and will be racing five boats at a time for the first time ever.

The races will take place every 10 minutes over a 250m race course between 9.30am and 5pm.

Keech Cottage Children's Hospice is the nominated charity set to benefit from sponsorship raised by the crews and they hope to exceed the £20,000 raised by the festival last year.

As well as the spectacular races taking place throughout the day, there will be plenty of activities on the bank to entertain crews and spectators including the Horizon Radio roadshow, funfair, inflatable activities, bungee trampolining, climbing wall, Diving Central 'Try diving' with swimming pool, mini golf, the high ropes course and miniature train.

Visitors can also enjoy performances by street entertainer, Dan the Hat at 11am, 1pm and 3pm and from local Chinese lion dance troupe, the Wing Chun Kung Fu display team at 12 noon and 2pm.

Entrance to the festival is free to spectators and 'pay and display' parking is available at Willen Lake.

The entered crews represent local businesses and organisations throughout Milton Keynes and the surrounding areas and all will be hoping to knock Routeco Plc off their pedestal as reigning champions.

Many will be entering into the spirit of the occasion by donning fancy dress such as the staff of thecentre:mk.

They are dressing up as their favourite superhero to compete on the day.

This week the superheroes have been patrolling thecentre:mk helping with shopper safety and raising the profile of the event

Trophies and bouquets will be presented by sponsor, electricity4business, to the top five crews, the top mixed crew and the team that raises the most money for Keech Cottage Children's Hospice.

The top fundraisers will also receive a special Chinese banquet at The Dragon Boat restaurant in Central Milton Keynes.

Merklyn Hauck of festival organisers, Gable Events said: "The MK Dragon Boat Festival is now the largest charity dragon boat event in the country and we are sure that crews and spectators will enjoy a fantastic day."

City kids in maths quest

CITY schoolcildren have done their homework when it comes to maths.

Sai Arathi Parepalli and Pauline Subong are two of 20 youngsters from across the country who have won a place in the national maths final of the AweSum Challenge online game at Birmingham University on Sunday.

Sai from Oxley Park Primary School and Pauline from Bishop Parker School in Bletchley have beaten over 5,000 youngsters from across the UK to reach the final and stand a chance of collecting the personal title of 'AweSum Challenge Champion 2008'.

The 11-year-olds could also win a personal prize of £150 towards a new bike and £5,000 for maths equipment for their school.

Devised by the West Bromwich Building Society and its charity partner, the Mercian Trust, the Awesum Challenge is a free fun maths game set in a fictitious snow dome.

Designed by educational and ICT specialists, the game aims to improve the attainment levels in maths and financial literacy of primary school children at Key Stage 2.

In front of a crowd of 125 local youngsters, parents and teachers, the Grand Final will see the children play the game in knock-out rounds to a quarter, semi and then an eventual final with the two highest scoring contestants.

On the smart side of the road

EIGHTY smart cars formed an eye-catching convoy as they drove through the city at the weekend.

The colourful compact cars rallied at the Smart retailer in Kingston before heading off to the 10th annual Smart car rally, held at Mercedes-Benz World in Surrey.

While drivers enjoyed breakfast, one smart design stood out because it was the work of local schoolgirl Sarah Esau, who came up with the tiger-print concept five years ago.

Sarah, aged 12 at the time, fell in love with the Smart car image and sent the design to the retailer, who put it into production with a commemorative plate.

Her parents bought the car and are keeping it in pristine condition to present to Sarah when she passes her driving test.

On Saturday the cars roared through the rain with their lights flashing and horns blaring.

Smart sales executive Samantha Walsh said: "It was very exciting to have such a huge turnout and see the bright designs, many of which have been custom made."

Kids' theatre performance pulled

YOUNG performers missed out on their big day after the Milton Keynes Variety Performance was cancelled.

The announcement from Milton Keynes Theatre disappointed many local schoolchildren who were set to perform and those who had bought tickets.

The family show, by VMK Productions, was billed as a production filled with music, dance, comedy and laughter. The cancellation was announced just three days before the performance on Sunday but the theatre was quick to process refunds.

John Young, general manager at Milton Keynes Theatre, said: "The Milton Keynes Variety Performance was set to be an exciting evening of entertainment aimed at raising money for an important cause within the local community.

"Having worked closely with the show's organisers over the past few months to ensure that audiences would be able to enjoy this production, we are now extremely disappointed that despite the continued hard work of all those talented people involved, the performance will no longer be taking place due to circumstances completely beyond our control."

Music club rocked by 'too noisy' fine

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CLUB manager has been fined more than £2,000 for allowing loud music to cause a nuisance to neighbours.

Tracey Grover, 38, who runs the Sound Lounge, Secklow Gate, Central Milton Keynes pleaded guilty to seven charges of breaching a noise abatement notice between February 23 and May 18 at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Friday.

The club features drum and bass, RnB, hardcore and jungle music.

Abi McHugh De Clare, prosecuting, said Milton Keynes Council began to receive complaints of loud music emanating from the club in December 2007.

An environmental health officer visited the area at 1.10am on February 16 and recorded a rhythmic continuous base tone coming from the premises.

The council issued a noise abatement notice on February 18 which required Ms Grover to not play or permit the playing of amplified music at a volume which would cause a nuisance.

But complaints from neighbours continued and council officers visited the area on seven occasions, mostly between 12am and 4am, and found the noise levels to be in breach of the notice.

"The disturbance to local people was considerable and frequent," said Miss McHugh De Clare.

Representing herself, Ms Grover, from Ruthben Close, Bletchley, said she spent £15,000 on sound proofing the bar at the end of April, and did not do this earlier due to lack of funds.

The landlady, who has leased the club since October last year, was sentenced on all but the last count on May 18 and fined a total of £2,367.57p.

Dons' chief opens school

MK Dons' chairman Pete Winkelman cut the tape to officially open a state-of-the-art school catering for young people with special educational needs.

The official opening ceremony of the Walnuts School, in Hazeley, was delayed after a vehicle reversed into the front canopy at the school, causing significant structural damage to the canopy, front wall of the hall and reception area.

It meant that repair works had to be carefully managed while the school continued to operate.

The school has been up and running successfully for a number of months now and, on Friday, Mr Winkelman performed the official opening ceremony.

The school provides places for 90 pupils with autistic spectrum disorder.

Some of the pupils play for the Milton Keynes Special Dons FC, and there will also be a match to mark the occasion.

Head teacher, Nick Jackman, said: "The collision was a bit of a setback, but everything is up and running as normal now and we are able to provide an excellent facility for up more than 90 youngsters with special educational needs.

"It's great to have Pete Winkelman here, especially as we have a connection with his team, as some of our youngsters play for the special Dons side."

Jack Nicklaus, Nick Faldo and Tiger Woods all have a god-given talent to play golf but somewhere along the line they had to learn the sport. MK NEWS sports reporter SIMONE CORGAN decided Woburn Golf and Country Club was the perfect place to have a first lesson with club professional Daniel Grieve

Golf proves a hit and miss affair

THE last time I picked up a golf club was to compete with my brothers in crazy golf, quite frankly I was shocking and for the record I came last.

So going to Woburn Golf and Country Club to be taught by one of their professionals was quite daunting.

Woburn is a top class attraction this August it is playing host to the European Seniors Tour, so it's safe to say a lot of talented people play there.

When I met PGA qualified Woburn pro Daniel Grieve he told me I had three aims for the day.

My first was to connect with the ball, the next was to hit it into the air (a lot harder than that reads) and finally it was to strike the ball in the air and straight.

There are three course at the tucked away club, the Duke's, Duchess and Marquess. We practised on a range to the left of the Marquess.

First thing I learnt? The set up is the most important aspect to golf, get that wrong and you are on a downwards spiral.

I was told to line the club up to the ball, with the face of the club parallel to my target and it was vital to keep my feet together as I did so, otherwise I would naturally position myself at the wrong angle.

Next my feet had to be either side of the ball and a few steps back, so far so good. Once I had the grip sorted I thought I was off and ready to go.

But then came the positioning of the body. Knees have to be bent, when you initially swing back the left shoulder has to drop and your wrists have to flex - that was just the beginning.

I was told the lower part of my body should remain straight meaning when I swing back the spine should twist.

Then I was ready to go... swoosh. That was the sound of me missing the ball. So we went back through the routine, and once again I did it but when I looked down at the tee the ball was still there. I knew it was not going to be an instant success, however, after the fourth, fifth and sixth time of missing I began to find it all a bit embarrassing.

Eventually I hacked it off the tee and it rolled away. Mission accomplished.

Then I lost the ability to hit the ball again.

Dan came back and told me to gently brush the grass as I brought the club back, aim to hit the tee and then follow through by bringing my right shoulder in front.

I moved through the steps in my head and the next thing I knew I was watching this white golf ball fly through the air and towards the red flag I had been aiming for.

It was one even Tiger Woods would have been proud of.

OK that is a bit of an exaggeration but I had a great sense of achievement and it wasn't just a fluke shot. I did it again and again, I was even hitting the ball straight.

At times I found the whole process extremely frustrating but as soon as I hit a sweet connection and watched the ball travel 70-yards I felt a great sense of achievement.

Once I had that sussed we moved on to putting at which point I discovered switching from big hitting to a gentle nudge of the ball was a bit awkward.

To putt you have to swing a small distance with the power generated from the shoulders and that is when your patience is truly tested.

The following day my neck ached, my arms hurt and I had used muscles I never knew I had. It was well worth it though and I was told I had potential so I'm off to the driving range, after all practice makes permanent.

■ The Woburn pros offer a range of lessons at the course including individual, group, playing, junior group coaching and junior summer camps. For more information contact the pro shop on 01908 626600.

Fringe benefits for all-girl comedy act

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN actress from Ravenstone is to return to Edinburgh Fringe Festival with an all-female comedy sketch show.

MK News reported in July last year that drama student Catriona Knox, 24, joined with two university friends to write a show about a small, struggling Russian circus troupe.

The trio, who studied English at Bristol University, performed the comedy at one of Edinburgh Festival's main venues, the Smirnoff Underbelly, Cowgate.

Now the friends have formed a troupe called the Boom Jennies and will be returning to the festival in August with a whole new act.

"It is a much more simple, fast-paced show with lots of different sketches, called the Boom Jennies Shindig," said Catriona.

From the top: Catriona Knox, Liz Bates and Anna Emerson

"Last year's performance went really well, we had several four star reviews."

"It was great fun up there as we got to see lots of shows and there were so many people interested in the same things, we learned so much from them."

Catriona, who now lives in East London, has recently completed a drama course at City Lit College in the capital.

She now hopes to launch her career in the theatre or film alongside performing as one of the Boom Jennies.

Over the last year, the troupe has also set up a monthly sketch night in the Canal Cafe Theatre, Little Venice, London giving other performers to chance to get on the stage.

They are doing a preview of their Edinburgh Festival performance at Turvey Village Hall, Bedford Road, Turvey on Saturday, July 12 at 7.30pm.

For tickets, costing £8.50 each, call Sheila Knox on 01908 551476 or e-mail abbey.house@virgin.net

More schools awarded 'specialist' status

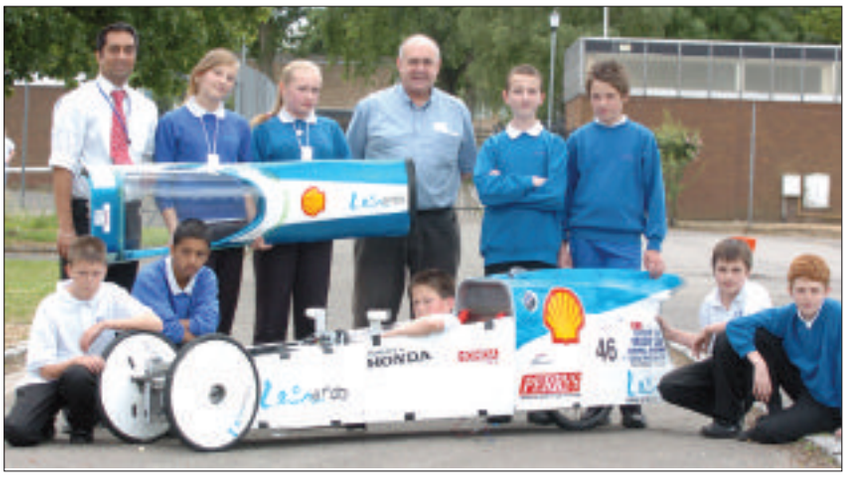
TWO more schools in Milton Keynes have been awarded specialist status.

The Hazeley School will specialise in maths and science, while the Gatehouse School, which caters for children with special educational needs, will focus on behaviour, emotional and social needs.

To apply for the status, they must have raised £50,000 in sponsorship and have a plan detailing how they will raise standards. They are then given £100,000 by the Government for a capital project and around £129 per pupil each year to implement their plans.

Special needs schools receive £645 per pupil.

Hazeley's headmaster Iain Denning said: "We are delighted. To get specialist status after the first application is quite special and we continue to move forward."



Rupinder Jhita and Dave Thorn with the students from the eco car team at Leon School

One for the road

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THEY may not be old enough to drive but these students have shamed the mechanical skills of many adults by building their own eco-car.

The pupils from Leon School and Sports College, in Bletchley, have built their car from scratch and will race it in a national driving competition, but the fastest vehicle doesn't win.

The team of 11-16-year-olds will aim for the title of the UK's most fuel efficient vehicle at the Shell Eco-marathon Youth Challenge, at the Rockingham Festival of Science on July 3.

Speed is sacrificed for efficiency as the pupils complete the course using the least fuel possible whilst maintaining an average speed of 15mph.

The Leon School team, dubbed Leonardo, came second in last year's competition with 1,322 miles per gallon (36 times more fuel efficient than a Ford Mondeo) and even beat a team from Cambridge University.

This year they are hoping for a personal best as they aim to achieve 3,000 miles per gallon.

Rupinder Jhita, design and technology teacher at Leon School and team manager of Leonardo, said: "Taking part in the competition has taught the pupils how to solve problems and they continue to amaze me with their resourcefulness.

"The Youth Challenge has given the students a genuine insight into mechanics and design and in many cases it has opened up new horizons for them.

"The pupils who have taken part are looking beyond their original careers aspirations such as bricklaying and now feel that it is attainable to become a fully qualified engineer."

The team has been mentored by local retired engineer Dave Thorn and Perry's has provided sponsorship.

Waterway signage

Trust is given £7,000 to show possible canal route

BEDFORD and Milton Keynes Waterway Trust has been given a grant to provide signposts and interpretation boards along a section of the proposed waterway which will link the Grand Union Canal at Milton Keynes to the Great Ouse at Bedford.

An interpretation board is already in place in Milton Keynes

The £7,000 grant comes from the Awards for All lottery fund.

Two years ago the Milton Keynes group from the trust obtained similar funding for a section of the route in Milton Keynes.

Since last August Richard Wood, seconded from the Department of Communities and Local Government, has been working with landowners and councils to create a permissive path along the rest of the route.

The award will allow the trust to mark out a section of the path from The Forest Centre, Marston Vale to Wootton.

The trust always welcomes new volunteers and will be seeking support and exhibiting at Bedford River Festival.

The trust will also be seeking support from schools along the route as it would like pupils' help in writing information for the interpretation boards.

Students sample army life in challenge

STUDENTS from two city schools were put through their paces by army soldiers this week.

Pupils from Stantonbury Campus and Sir Frank Markham Community School, took part in the Army Schools Challenge 2008 at St George's Barracks, Bicester on Monday.

Eighty soldiers from 11 regiments mentored, trained and supported the students while they took part in a day of challenging and competitive military activities.

Split into their school groups 400 pupils from across the region enjoyed activities including navigating an inflatable obstacle course, target shooting, laser clay pigeon shooting, constructing signalling equipment to transmit messages to other team members, a gun run, combat stretcher race and combat sports race.

Points were awarded for performance, speed and accuracy.

Weekend fountain fix

THE fountain in Campbell Park has been working again.

MK NEWS reported earlier this month that the city landmark was to remain dry as was too expensive to fix.

The fountain in the circular pool at the entrance of Campbell Park has been broken for months, however, Milton Keynes Parks Trust did not intend to pay the £10,000 it would cost to repair it.

The valve of the 30-year-old fountain is broken and to replace it requires the entire concrete structure to be moved.

A spokesman for the Parks Trust said that the fountain will be switched on at weekends and for major events.

"The fountain can be switched on intermittently," she said.

"We are not able to keep the fountain on all the time as the fault means that we would waste water and energy by doing so.We are currently investigating how to fix all sections and are hopeful that the problem will be fixed soon."

See salsa stars free at The Stables – and get a tapas meal too

SLIP on your salsa sneakers on Saturday, July 12 and sashay down to The Stables, where Colombian salsa stars La-33 will be storming the stage.

Enough of the alliteration already! Colombia has always been acknowledged as one of salsa's great creative hotbeds, and twelve-piece La-33 hail from 33rd Street in Bogota - hence the name. They're famed for their hard-driving, live sets of old-school salsa dura, mambo and boogaloo.

Their self-titled first album included a blistering salsa-mambo version of Henry Mancini's Theme from The Pink Panther, reworked as La Pantera Mambo.

This was a huge global hit and could be heard on every quality salsa dancefloor, and since then they've been touring all over the world with their vibrant, energetic live set.

If you know your salsa stuff, then you'll hear clear influences from Ruben Blades, Eddie Palmieri and Willie Colon, but equally you can expect to hear brand new material performed by a brilliant three-line vocal section backed by brilliant brasses.

To make your evening complete, you can not only enjoy great music at The Stables, you can now complete the evening with an informal pre-show dining experience and enjoy real food made by a real chef.

Cafe in2 offers a variety of pre-performance snacks, light meals and an array of desserts, all cooked freshly on the premises by The Stables in-house Executive Chef, Jim Wilson. Open from 6pm, Cafe in2 Jim uses fresh ingredients sourced from some of the best local suppliers to create light tasty dishes, full of flavour but short on additives and reasonably priced.

And to celebrate salsa, Jim will be dishing up a specially prepared tapas meal to get everyone in the mood.

MK NEWS has teamed up with The Stables to offer a lucky reader FOUR tickets to the concert plus a themed tapas meal being specially prepared by The Stables in-house executive chef, Jim Wilson ,in the new cafe-bar – Cafe in2 – worth over £100(drinks not included).

Famous Women Entrepreneurs

Historically, entrepreneurship has been a male-dominated pursuit, but many of today's most memorable and inspirational entrepreneurs are women. For example Anita Roddick, founder of The Body Shop, Coco Chanel, her signature fragrance, Chanel No. 5, is still one of the best-selling fragrances in the world and Karen Bradey, who became the youngest MD of a PLC when Birmingham City FC successfully floated on the stock market in 1997.

In an ongoing poll, About.com asked their readers to select the entrepreneur they most admired. Was it Bill Gates? Richard Branson? Donald Trump? Nope -- Oprah Winfrey stood out head and shoulders above the rest.The fact is that more women are now choosing to start their own business says the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB).

According to the organisation, the number of women running their own start-ups is 'increasing rapidly'. The spokesperson adds that the self-employed sector has until now been relatively male-dominated and explains that 'the situation appears to be changing quite fast now'.

Here are examples of some of Milton Keynes's most successful Business Women

ARCANA

With almost 15 years experience in the health and beauty industry, Debbie Elderton's Arcana Hair, Beauty & Specialist Treatment Centres have been going from strength to strength. Debbie launched Arcana at Shenley Brook End five years ago and has enjoyed such success that she opened a further salon in Crownhill this year. Her business now employs 38 staff providing a range of treatments for hair, beauty, holistic therapies and nails.

Debbie, who worked for Barnfield College and attended the University of Hertfordshire for four years before coming back to the industry she missed, said she is addicted to learning."I went to college, university, then did a post graduate course after my BSc in Medical Biology, followed by a business development course and I'm still always taking new courses," she said. "I don't believe in sitting still and letting things go stale."

Debbie has a supportive partner; Anthony, together they enjoy taking time out with their dogs when the salon is closed and teaching isn't on the agenda. The salon is a bubbly, friendly and energetic environment due to Debbie's approach and hard work.

MUSIC REVIEWS

LAY YOUR LOVE ON ME
BWO

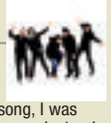
I CAN'T work out if this lot are taking the music business lark seriously or not. For one thing, their videos are completely mental and for another, their songs may be formulaic Europop, but there is actually quite a lot of stuff out there that's actually worse than this.

They definitely sound like they're having the time of their lives, and I suppose that has to be a good thing.

Usually, when I say a song's inoffensive that usually means 'there's a chance you might find it inoffensive, but personally I'd be quite happy to throw my radio at the wall if this song was played'. This time, I really do mean the song's inoffensive.

It plays for three minutes, has a happy aura about it, and it's just the right side of bland. They even have the bottle to throw in a gratuitous key-change right at the end. There's no denying it, this is an incredibly naff song, but I can't help feeling that the band themselves are in on the joke, and if they are, fair play to them.

CAN'T GO BACK
Primal Scream



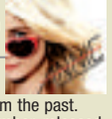
THE first time I heard this song, I was quite impressed. It's a lot more electronic than, say, Country Girl was but there's easily enough attitude and savvy about it to make sure it doesn't turn into something BWO could have recorded.

However, the second time I heard it, I realised just how repetitive it was it's relentless from start to finish and for a song like this, that can wear thin very quickly.

It took me two listens, which is a shame really, because when Primal Scream are on top form they can come up with songs that stand up to repeated listens over a period of many years. You want proof? One word: Loaded.

This one, unfortunately, sounds to me as though it's got the shelf life of a loaf of bread in comparison.

I KNOW UR GIRLFRIEND HATES ME
Annie



OH look, another name from the past. Annie, you may (not) remember, released a single a few years back called Chewing Gum. It was really good, but back then really good songs tended to do really badly in the charts.

Things are a bit different nowadays, and if you can get past the appalling spelling error in the title then there's a quality pop song to be found here. In fact, if Girls Aloud had recorded this instead we'd be talking about a potential Number One here, absolutely no doubt about it. It's bright and breezy, but it doesn't go too far. Songs like this deserve to be all over the radio like a rabbit on a fluffy toy.

CITIES IN DUST
Junkie XL

JUNKIE XL is setting out to prove that he'll rework absolutely anybody's songs as long as the pay's good. First, he achieved the feat of making an Elvis Presley remix sound better than the original and now he's rebuilt an old Siouxsie and the Banshees track from the ground up.

Guess what? I think he's improved on the original again. There's not much in it overall, but this version's got a lot more get up and go and the tune's been slightly altered. If you're going to do a cover, you might as well make it worthwhile. Junkie XL's earned his wages. Top marks.

DANESBOROUGH CHORUS

DANESBOROUGH CHORUS
Saturday, 7.30pm
DANESBOROUGH Chorus concert promises to be a musical garland of summer flowers at Woburn Parish Church on Saturday.

There will be performances of John Rutter's Magnificat, Arvo Port's Berliner Messe and Mozart's Exsultate, Jubilate.

For the first time, the Danesborough Chorus will perform a work by the Estonian composer Arvo Port, whose beautiful and simple music has its roots in the Orthodox tradition.

Mozart wrote his glorious soprano solo motet Exsultate, Jubilate in 1773 when he was 17 years old. He was in Milan at the end of his tour of Italy. The soloist will be Claire Seaton (soprano), and the choir will be accompanied by the Milton Keynes City Orchestra.

STOWEFESTIVAL

Supergrass on the grass at Stowe festival

SUPERGRASS, Richard Ashcroft, and Athlete are among the top acts playing at a new international music festival.

The inaugural Last Days of Summer Festival will be held on Bank Holiday Monday, August 25 at the idyllic country estate of Stowe House, in Buckinghamshire.

Other confirmed acts include The Rascals, Young Knives, Royworld, the US's Fun Lovin' Criminals and Black Kids.

They will play alongside the year's only UK solo appearance by The Verve front man Richard Ashcroft.

Brit, Mercury Music and NME Award winners Supergrass, from Oxford, will headline the event performing the likes of 'Mary', 'Richard III' and 'Sun Hits The Sky' alongside new material from their critically acclaimed new album Diamond Hoo Ha. Festival goers can expect to hear the likes of Athlete's 'Wires', Ashcroft's 'A Song For The Lovers' and 'Break The Night With Colour' and Fun Lovin' Criminal's 'Scooby Snacks' and 'Loco'.

Event spokesman Ciaran Kennedy said: "The Last Days of Summer Festival is one of the music calendar's coolest new dates which brings together, on one stage for one day, a brilliant, international line-up to one of the most beautiful parts of the country.

"This is the first time Stowe House has agreed to stage this type of event and we've worked hard to deliver a line-up you'd normally only see at the really big festivals.

"The Last Days of Summer will allow friends to sit and chill out, grab a beer and sandwich at the bar and food village and enjoy for the last time in 2008, a superb British festival."

Tickets, priced at £39.50 plus booking fee, are available from www.seetickets.com or by calling 0871 220 0260. VIP tickets are also available upon request.

For the latest news and festival details visit www.thelastdaysofsummer.com.

The event car park will open from 10.30am, gates open at Midday, performances start at 1.30pm and the event finishes at 11.00pm. Set-times and further information will be posted closer to the event.

MK NEWS has teamed up with the festival organisers to provide two lucky readers with a pair of tickets each for this unique festival.

To be in with a chance of winning simply answer the following question: What is the name of Supergrass' latest album?

Answers on a postcard to The Last Days of Summer Festival competition, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 ODU or by email to competitions@mk-news.co.uk

Please include your name, address and daytime telephone numbers.

First correct entries drawn win. The editors decision is final and the closing date is July 9.

FAMILYHOLIDAY

Butlins – altogether more fun for a fabulous family holiday

CHANGING into my robe and towelling slippers my only decisions for the next two hours would be how long should I sit in the hydrotherapy pool before moving into the crystal steam room and then on to the sauna.

So where was I enjoying this wonderful haven?

A swanky country hotel in the English countryside? No.

A Scandinavian retreat in the mountains? No.

Surely some far flung romantic beach destination? Sorry no.

I was at Butlins in Skegness!

Only 20 minutes earlier I had been making carnival masks with my five-year-old daughter and had already been entertained that very morning by Bob the Builder, Billy Bear and the supercool Skyline Gang.

But the new spa at Butlins' biggest resort is most definitely a Bob-free zone. In fact, it's probably the only place on the complex where children are unable to go.

The move to introduce the spa is a stroke of genius. For just £15 adults are able to check in for two hours of adult time. Just enough to recharge the batteries before you plunge back into the real world, or should I say Butlins' world.

They also offer a host of bookable treatments for you to pamper yourself silly if that's what you want.

My family and I were staying in a three bedroom 'Gold' apartment on the site.

The rooms are big, the furniture modern and stylish and, most importantly, they are clean.

What can you say about Butlins? It really is a child's idea of heaven. Where else is it possible to cram so much into one day?

Armed with your handy pocket guide, there is show after show to choose from in the excellent Skyline Pavlion, the huge indoor complex that will become your very close friend on any Butlins holiday.

The massive pool complex is truly fantastic and was the first time that my one-year-old son had been exposed to such a giant fun bathtub.

Butlins is simply the best at what it does. Take your children there and, I promise, you will not regret it. We only had tears on one day. That was when I had to tell my daughter that, unfortunately, no – we are not able to live at Butlins forever!

Prices at Butlins Skegness start from £80pp per break based on four people sharing a Silver self-catering apartment during the school summer holidays.

To book a Butlins break call 0845 070 4730 or visit www.butlins.com

Thrilled: Keith Watson boss of ROK Central

Between a Rok and a hard hat

Local building company wins international safety award

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A BUILDER has scooped an international award for its commitment to health and safety.

Rok has been presented with the International Safety Award by the British Safety Council, following a rigorous examination of the company's practices by an independent adjudicating panel.

The award highlights Rok's commitment to further improving the health and safety culture within the organisation, including impressive safety policies and plans.

Shaun Davis, director for safety, health and environment at Rok, accepted the award at a ceremony in London's Grosvenor House Hotel on Park Lane.

Special guests at the ceremony included chairman of the British Safety Council, Nina Wrightson OBE, members of the Health & Safety Executive and Health & Safety Commission and, the Minister for Health & Safety, Lord McKenzie.

Assessors visited Rok, based in Vega House, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes to examine the company's health and safety procedures within the offices, on building sites and the safety of the technicians who are van-based.

Keith Watson, managing director of Rok Central, said: "We're really thrilled to be honoured with this award and in winning it we have demonstrated our ongoing focus on the implementation of safety procedures.

"We believe in protecting and promoting the health, safety and well being of all our people and the communities we serve."

'Vivacious' business culture prompts firm's city launch

TOP international business and leadership development consultants ClearJam chose Milton Keynes to launch their exciting new service for small businesses and entrepreneurs.

ClearJam, who currently provide consultancy and training to some of the worlds leading companies, as well as to governments, senior managers and top business schools, decided to launch the Business Support Club in Milton Keynes because of the vivacious nature of the city's businesses.

"We find Milton Keynes is a hive of budding entrepreneurs and vibrant growing companies. It is alive with the buzz of ambition and enterprise" said Fiona Beaumont, ClearJam's Milton Keynes based Director.

The first club meeting took place last week and was a roaring success. A good range of businesses were represented and the club warmly welcomed new members from several local established companies, as well as pre start-ups and early stage enterprises.

Two excellent guest speakers gave stimulating presentations on important business topics: Stevie Pattison-Dick, Head of Corporate Communications at Edexcel explained the importance of Reputation and Branding to the small business and Michael Glossop, Managing Director of Charitable People MK, gave lots of useful tips in his "Marketing an a Shoestring" session.

As well as providing a great place to network, the Business Support Club provided practical and pragmatic help from experienced business experts. Susan Popoola of Conning Towers HR Consultancy said "I'm pleased that I attended. The meeting was skilfully organised, within an environment that enabled people to relax and talk freely. The speakers at the event were not only very knowledgeable, but they also freely shared their knowledge. I'm looking forward to participating in the ClearJam Business Support Club as it develops and grows."

The next support meeting takes place on July 2 at The Well at Willen, MK15 and features further presentations from top business experts together with opportunities to ask questions about your business.

Working in the protection business

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

"ONE day you can be dealing with flooding and another with a fuel crisis," said Debra Mordecai, emergency planning officer at Milton Keynes Council.

She has been working for the authority's emergency planning unit for 15 months and enjoys the diversity of the job.

"There is also a lot of interaction, working with lots of partners such as the fire, ambulance, health service and police," she added.

The unit writes plans, under the Civil Contingencies Act 2004 (CCA), to help mitigate the effects of emergencies which threaten serious damage to human welfare or the environment, or war or terrorism which threaten serious damage to the security of the UK.

The department recently identified the top risks for Milton Keynes this year as influenza pandemic, followed by major road traffic accidents, major explosions, gas shortage, heatwave and flooding.

The potential risks are prioritised using national criteria and the likelihood of something happening.

Mrs Mordecai explained that the unit not only puts together plans ahead of a crisis, it is the first point of contact at the council if disaster strikes and coordinates the response, calling out highways or environmental health officers if required.

If Milton Keynes were hit by floods like those that swamped Hull and Tewkesbury last summer the unit would provide safety in some of its 120 rest centres designated across the city and then help provide long-term accommodation for those who are left homeless.

Mrs Mordecai added that a growing part of the job is warning and informing people about how to protect themselves.

"You can't force people to protect themselves but you can give them advice and information to encourage them. This is why we are releasing a booklet giving residents advise on what they can do," she said.

The booklet, which should be delivered to all households in Milton Keynes at the end of summer, includes safety tips for the home, advice on how to put an emergency box together in case you need to evacuate quickly, flooding, fire and health advice.

To become an emergency planning officer you often need a qualification in emergency planning, but some posts simply require that you have a good knowledge of the CCA and experience in something related, for example the emergency services.

"You have to be calm in a crisis, you are not allowed to panic and you have got to be good at calming other people down," added Mrs Mordecai.

Public Notices

SEX ESTABLISHMENT LICENCE
NOTICE OF APPLICATION
25TH JUNE 2008

Notice is hereby given that Tony Fuller has applied to Milton Keynes Council for a renewal of licence for a sex establishment as a sex shop/sex cinema for the premises Foxylady, 28 Watling Street, Fenny Stratford Milton Keynes.

The Council will not reveal the names of the objectors without their consent. Anyone requiring further advice or information should contact the Chief Environmental Health Officer on telephone number 01908 252405.

Persons objecting to the grant or renewal of licences must be prepared to attend in person at the public hearing before a committee of the Council.

Appeals Tribunal Decision

Case Ref No:	APE 0401
Appeals Tribunal Date:	5 June 2008
Relevant Standards Committee	Milton Keynes Council
Date of Standards Committee Decision:	3 March 2008
Name of member concerned: (Appellant & his authority)	Alderman Bartlett of Milton Keynes Council
Ethical Standards Officer (ESO):	Mr S Kingston
Monitoring Officer:	Mr P McCourt
Independent Investigator:	Mr D Wilkinson

Appeals Tribunal Members:
Chairman: Mr S Bird, Members: Mr P Dawson & Mr R Tyndall

1. The Appeals Tribunal considered an appeal against the Standards Committee's decision to censure the Appellant for a failure to follow paragraphs 2(b) and 4 of the Code of Conduct by using his position to gain entry and demand information from staff of the Open College Network (OCN), refusing to give reasons for doing so and becoming belligerent, demanding and aggressive, refusing to leave until staff threatened to call the police and threatening the position of those present.
2. The Appeals Tribunal does not consider it was open to the Standards Committee to conclude that the Appellant was acting in his official capacity and determined that the Appellant did not fail to follow paragraph 2(b) of the Code.
3. In the Appeals Tribunal's view, there was nothing which justified the Appellant issuing an intemperate threat. A councillor attempting in this fashion and in these circumstances, to throw his weight around (albeit verbally), could reasonably be regarded as bringing his office into disrepute. The Appeals Tribunal determined that the Appellant did fail to follow paragraph 4 of the Code and upholds the finding of the Standards Committee to that extent.
4. The Standards Committee was wrong to impose public censure in the circumstances of this case. A finding of breach would have been sufficient sanction in itself.

S Bird, Chairman of the Appeals Tribunal, 5 June 2008

MKMOTORING

Matchless Mercedes-Benz of MK

MERCEDES-BENZ of Milton Keynes is celebrating five years in its Greyfriars Court, Kingston premises.

The retailer is firmly established as a comfortable and friendly place to visit and the welcoming team has again been nominated for management and individual team awards by the manufacturer and by parent company Sytner Group.

Current national customer satisfaction rankings place the business in the top quarter of retailers with mor than 93 per cent of service customers reporting that they are completely satisfied with every aspect of their service experience.

The service department is managed by Simon Fernandez, who has developed the world-class facilities in answer to evolving needs and requests from customers.

Having your car serviced at Mercedes-Benz of Milton Keynes is a co-ordinated, well-structured experience. Your car will be booked in for service on an appointment basis; you will be greeted by dedicated service adviser Jennifer Kirby and introduced to one of three experienced service team leaders who will be your contact for the duration of the car service. If necessary, the technician in the team can talk directly to you from the ramp the car is worked on.

The team is well motivated and inspired to take a real interest in customer needs, many are long serving employees and they all take great pride in delivering excellent service.

The workshop at Mercedes-Benz of Milton Keynes at Greyfriars Court, Kingston. Left: manager Simon Fernandez

Mr Fernandez said: "There are no Mercedes-Benz service and workshop facilities to match ours in the Milton Keynes area.

"Having the best working environment means we retain the very best technicians and administrators who receive continuous training and enjoy their role in this flagship business.

"The people who work here are key to the commercial success we have enjoyed since moving to Kingston.

"We have easy access and plenty of parking spaces, a state of the art workshop based on motor racing design and efficiency, which is a great confidence boost for our customers, who can see the work being carried out on our 23 tech ramps and work stations and dedicated MOT bay.

"As a main dealer we have first access to all manufacturer computers and tooling updates.

"Our most experienced diagnostics technicians are well known within the Mercedes-Benz network and their skills are often called for on a national basis to advise and mentor others."

For the unexpected, the retailer has an accident and management service to offer specialist advice and support.

In addition, investment has recently been made in an on-site 'smart repair' service which includes paintless dent removal, windscreen chip repairs, scuffed alloy wheel repair and a number of minor cosmetic trim repairs.

He wouldn't trust an unauthorised repairer to work on his car. Would you?

“I would like to have a manager in place sooner rather than later but I will not be rushed

– Chairman Pete

PETE Winkelman told MK NEWS this week that he will not be rushed into making an appointment to replace Ince saying he wants to get the right man for the job.

Speaking on Monday he said: “The manager is the most important person in a football club – you have to get that right or at least hope your are getting it right.

“How long that process takes is how long you have to give it but I am aware that it is late in the summer we have pre-season starting next week and friendly matches coming up in July.

“I would like to have a manager in place sooner rather than later but I will not be rushed.

“We’ve got some fantastic names that have already been thrown into the hat. I won’t go into individuals but I’ve been pleasantly surprised by the number of people that have expressed interest in the job.

“We have to consider experienced managers that haven’t been in the lower leagues that we might now prove attractive to, well-respected managers that have promotion from this division on their CVs and, you know me, we’re a new football club and we’re not frightened of doing something a little bit different if we really feel good about it.

“I don’t want to go and meet 10 people, I don’t think that’s fair on anyone. Ideally we’ll hone it down to three or four and from there it will be about how those interviews go

“There are some very serious names and we will consider them all when we put together a shortlist but I don’t know who that will be yet. I’m going to take a step back and take a look over the next couple of days.”

The names in the frame

Today we look at some of the potential candidates understood to be in the frame for the job

Popular choice with the fans: IAN HOLLOWAY

Could relish the prospect of a step up to manager: TONY ADAMS

Positive and passionate role model that the club needs: STUART PEARCE

Knows what it takes to get a side out of League One: NIGEL ADKINS

Linked with the Blackburn position until he opted out; SAM ALLARDYCE

Vocal in his support of the Dons and of chairman Pete Winkelman: MARTIN ALLEN

With only limited funds he took the Rams to Premier promotion: BILLY DAVIES

Sort of name that could attract exciting European talent to the club: ROBERTO DI MATTEO

Ian Holloway - The name being linked to the Dons in many quarters and the early favourite. Would make for an interesting opening game of the season as the Dons have to travel to Leicester, the club he was sacked from.

The outspoken manager would be a popular choice with the fans.

Tony Adams - Arsenal and England legend who learnt his managerial trade with Wycombe Wanderers the hard way when they were relegated under his stewardship. After a short coaching spell in Holland, he is currently number two behind Harry Rednapp at Portsmouth and enjoyed another successful season. Better prepared now and could relish the prospect of a step up.

Roberto Di Matteo - The former Chelsea favourite is ready to take his first steps to becoming a top flight manager after apparantly throwing his name into contention for the MK Dons job.

The midfielder has been taking his coaching badges with Spurs assistant Gus Poyet. Sort of name that could attract exciting European talent to the club.

Martin Allen - This would be a controversial appointment. The former Dons boss Allen guided the Dons to the play offs but defeat saw him grab the opportunity of a big move to Leicester leaving under a bit of a cloud. He was sacked months later. Allen has been very vocal in his support of the Dons and of chairman Pete Winkelman since then. Will lightning strike twice?

Sam Allardyce - ‘Big’ Sam Allardyce certainly ticks the boxes if its a star name that Winkelman is after. The former Bolton and Newcastle boss had been linked with the Blackburn position until he opted out leaving the way open for Ince. Might fancy dropping down the leagues to join the Dons revolution.

Billy Davies - Forget the Premier season with Derby where he was sacked halfway through. It’s what went before that made Davies one of the hottest managerial properties around. With only limited funds he took the Rams to Premier promotion and before that enjoyed success with Preston on a shoestring budget.

Stuart Pearce - The former Man City boss is currently holding the reigns of the England under-21s. Has been linked to the Dons before and could be the kind of positive and passionate role model that the club needs post Ince. Bound to be popular with supporters.

Nigel Adkins - The Scunthorpe United boss knows what it takes to get a side out of League One as he took his team to the Championship. However, it was only short lived as Scunthorpe return to league one for this campaign after being relegated.

FOOTBALL fixtures have only been out a week but already dates have been re-organised.

MK Dons were due to play Brighton and Hove Albion on Saturday, December 13 but the game has been brought forward a day.

They will now travel to Withdean on Friday, December 12 with kick-off at 7.45pm.

The council’s planning permission, which allows Albion to play at council-owned Withdean, stipulates the club aren’t allowed to play Saturday afternoon matches during December, due to the large volume of Christmas shoppers using the council’s park and ride scheme, which is also based at Withdean.

THE date for MK Dons’ first round Carling Cup clash with Norwich City has been confirmed.

Glenn Roeder’s Championship side will visit stadiummk on Tuesday, August 12, kick-off is at 7.45pm.

Ticket prices will be £15 for adults, £10 for concessions (OAPs and students on production of a valid NUS card), £5 for under-16s and £2 for under-7s. Supporters with disabilities will be admitted at the concession price and a carer, if required, will be admitted free of charge.

FOLLOWING Ince’s departure the future of two of the Dons’ key players is in doubt.

Captain and midfield marvel Keith Andrews is being linked with a £1.5m move to Blackburn.

This would be a real blow to the Dons keen to keep their talismanic 27-year-old skipper for another season.

Dons midfielder Colin Cameron is also considering a move to Port Vale in a player-coach capacity.

The 35-year-old’s contract is due to expire at the end of this month.

The former Scotland international has been in talks with the Dons about a fresh deal.

ICE HOCKEY

Lightning sign top defender

A GREAT Britain international has become the latest addition of MK Lightning.

James Pease will join the Milton Keynes ice hockey team in time for their 2008/09 season.

Described by player-coach Nick Poole as a 'massive signing' Pease will toughen Lightning's defence in his second spell with the club.

Poole said: "He immediately brings both strength and size to our defence which is an area that we lacked in last season. He is used to winning and I am very confident that his winning mentality and experience will be a key factor in getting our hands back on some silverware this season."

Pease has previously spent time with Solihull Barons and the Coventry Blaze.

Not only will he become a vital part of Lightning's team he will also take on a side of coaching duties, holding training sessions to allow Poole to concentrate on his own game.

The head coach added: "He has been a key member over the last few years in a very successful team. James will be a big asset on the coaching side and will primarily assist on the defensive side of our game.

"Being a GB international James will be big asset to some of the young defenders in our club. I am thrilled to have him back in our team and I know he will once again be a big hit with our fans."

MARTIAL ARTS

Martial arts pair picked for Great Britain

TWO members of a martial arts club have been called up to represent Great Britain.

Tony Davis and Emma Goodwin from Bletchley-based Total Dojo have been selected to represent the 2008 GB team in Portugal later this year.

Davis, head instructor at Total Dojo, said: "I am really pleased to have made the team but I have to say that it is Emma who deserves the accolade as she has only been training just over two-and-a-half years and her position is testament to her hard work and dedication to the sport."

The news comes just weeks after Total Dojo collected medals from the UWC a mixed martial arts event in Southend. Warren Kee and Gary Carter both picked up golds while Mark Timberlake collected silver in the heavyweight division.

■ Anyone interested in kick boxing, self defence or mixed marshall arts should contact one of the Total Dojo team on 07730 745 717.

F1 RACING

Red Bull in the points again

MORE points for Red Bull at the weekend as their great season continues.

Mark Webber came home sixth in the French Grand Prix on Sunday leaving him in eighth place in the driver's championships and the team fourth in the constructors championship.

Webber battled with traffic and a persistent Fernando Alonso in the closing laps to take the points.

It was frustrating afternoon for fellow driver David Coulthard who failed to build on his podium finish in Canada ending up in ninth.

Speaking after the race Webber said: "My start wasn't great, but my first stint wasn't too bad in terms of pace. I was trying to keep up with Fernando (Alonso) as I knew he was short and I put in some laps that were right on the edge before the first stop. On my out lap I knew I was still under pressure from others who were going a bit longer and jumped the kerbs a bit hard when I was on fresh tyres with heavy fuel. I had a big moment, although I managed to save it. I then settled in behind Fernando again, but his strategy didn't work out as well, which was good for us.

"It's good for the team to get some more points today. It was a tough week in the build up to this race, in terms of effort from the factory and the boys at the track, and three points is not to be sniffed at. Toyota had a strong race today, but we'll have more in the future."

Mates masters again

A POOL team set up in the memory of a man who died in Caldecotte Lake have done the double.

Casey's Mates claimed the Milton Keynes Club Pool league and league cup this year.

The club were originally called Bucks County but reformed under a new name in 2005 following the death of fellow pool player James Casey.

Casey's Mates have now won the league twice in the last three years and it is the third time in as many seasons they have stormed to the cup title.

Team mates had Dave McLernon to thank for leading them to success in the cup as he won the deciding leg 6-2 to beat Windmill Scratch in the final.

The league is played out over eight months with nine teams playing 16 games each.

Casey's Mates finished top of the pile, three points clear of the nearest competitors Windmill Scratch with 43 points after notching up 14 victories, drawing one and losing one.

They are inviting teams to play in their annual James Casey Memorial Trophy competition which takes place on Saturday, July 19 at 11am at the Scots Club on Selbourne Avenue .

Next season the team will be playing all their home games at the Royal Oak Club, Porchester Place, Bletchley.

Skaters in the trophies

Alex Brown won gold for level 5 ladies, Shaylee Jones also took gold for level 1 girls, 11 and over, as did Paige Jacobs in the beginner girls, 8 years category.

Debbie Bell, Ellie Taylor and Lucy Thorpe claimed silver medals while twelve girls also took bronze.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

Division Two

FOR the third week in a row Milton Keynes Park's batsmen failed to perform when they visited Bourton Vale on Saturday.

Going into the match at the top of the table Park, knew that a solid performance was imperative to keep them top but it was not to be.

The toss would be crucial, given the heavy overnight rain and when the flip of the coin fell Bourton's way skipper Stephen Stroud had no hesitation in inserting Park.

Bourton's Ben Hughes got the home side off to a perfect start when he had James Sprittles caught at point.

Ian Smith and James Ward put together a solid partnership of 39 for the second wicket before Smith was unluckily adjudged caught behind off Stroud for 14.

Graham Simpson and Ward's partnership was broken with the score on 49 when Ward (21) got a lifting delivery from Stroud which he could only edge up in the air and through to keeper Cartlidge.

Ward's wicket triggered a collapse with Simpson and Alston falling caught behind to Graham Newhook and Stroud (4/48) respectively, Park now 49/5.

There was brief respite for the sixth wicket before Tim Chapman was trapped in front by Newhook (3/62).† Mark Grass became the fifth Park batsman to be caught behind and with Mark Roberts falling without troubling the scorers Park were in all sorts of trouble at 71/8.

Ghufran Mohammed (40) was the only Park batsman to get going, batting in his usual attacking style which included taking 21 off one of Newhook's overs.† He was ably supported by James Clark (14) in a ninth wicket partnership of 49.† When Clark fell LBW to Hughes (3/12), Mohammed followed soon afterwards and Park were 121 all out.

Park knew that early wickets would be vital but Bourton managed to get 23 on the board before Mohammed removed Mucadam with Mike Alston taking a fine catch at mid-off.

The score was on 43 when Mohammed removed West Indian Almuzahim who was caught behind by Ward.

Bourton added twenty for the third wicket before James Sprittles removed Smith caught and bowled.

Park knew that they had to press ahead and take wickets quickly to have a chance but Bourton's fourth wicket partnership of 54 soon put paid to any hopes.

James Clark managed a further breakthrough when Newhook was caught by Grass but Bourton cruised home by six wickets in the 27th over.

Park will be looking to improve in every area this weekend when they welcome basement boys Bledlow Ridge to Manor Fields.

NORTHANTS PREMIER LEAGUE

NORTHAMPTON Steelbacks lost their 100 per cent record in the Twenty20 cup last week when they suffered a crushing defeat to Warwickshire Bears.

The Steelbacks, playing their second game at Milton Keynes' Campbell Park, lost by nine wickets following a spectacular batting collapse.

Northants were 4-1 when Rob White, who had hit an unbeaten 94 just two days earlier on the same pitch, was caught out by Ian Salisbury.

Soon they were 5-37, losing three wickets in the space of six runs.

When Lance Klusener fell on 12 Northants were reeling on 67-9 before Johann Louw and Chris Brown steadied the ship for a total of 102 at the end of their innings.

Warwickshire's Ant Botha (3-15) and Chris Martin (2-15) had destroyed the Northants' batting line up.

The Bears reached the total with ease thanks to Neil Carter's half century from 28 balls.

Carter (52) smashed five four's and four sixes on his way to the total before Brown had him caught and bowled.

But with Jonathan Trott (24) and Jim Troughton at the crease Warwickshire reached 106 with four overs to spare.

On Friday lost again this time in a rain affected match against Glamorgan in Cardiff.

However the Steelbacks were able to gain revenge on Sunday against the same opponents rattling up 207-4 and a 24 run win.

It was their fifth win in their group.

Rob White and O'Brien shared a 100 opening stand and then David Sales ensured the Steelbacks raced past the 200-mark.

White's 49 came off just 27 balls, while O'Brien smashed 69 off 37 deliveries, the same number faced by Sales as he rattled up 57.

Andrew Hall was again the hero with the ball, claiming 5-29.

‘THANKS for everything’ that’s the message to fans from Paul Ince as he said goodbye to MK Dons in an emotional interview with this newspaper yesterday.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS sports reporter Simone Corgan after being unveiled as Blackburn’s new boss he revealed how much he will miss the club he spent 12 successful months at.

He said: I’m sad to be leaving but also proud of what I achieved at Milton Keynes. I did envisage staying two or three years to take the club forward on the assumption that a Premier League club didn’t come in for me.

“I didn’t expect it to happen this early.

“It’s a great day for me today but it’s also a sad day because the players at Milton Keynes are awesome. I’m going to miss the players, miss the fans, the relationship I had with the chairman, everyone at the club.

“The place has such a great buzz and a family feeling and that’s something I need to replicate at Blackburn.

“I just want to say thanks to the fans for their support, they’ve been great to me, the management and players.”

Ince, who quit the club on Sunday, won the League Two title and the Johnstone’s Paint Trophy last season with the Dons.

Since taking over on June, 25, 2007, he won 33 of his 55 games, losing 10 and drawing 12.

“What I’ve done at Milton Keynes | will never, ever forget and I want them in the future to keep pushing up those leagues, get in the Championship and who knows how far they can go?” said Ince.

“I believe they can go as far as they want to go. It’s important now that they get the right man for the job.

All smiles: New Blackburn Rovers manager Paul Ince during the press conference at Ewood Park.

“Hopefully the fans will understand why I had to go, you don’t get opportunities like this all the time to go into the Premiership. I couldn’t refuse.

“I wish them all the best, I’ll be coming down to watch a few games and fingers crossed for them. I want to come down next week and say goodbye to a few people.”

On who should follow him into the Dons hot seat he said: “I don’t know, I think Paul Lambert did a fantastic job at Wycombe. I like the way he plays his football and of course his team gave us two hard games last season and he’s an up and coming young manager. I read Roberto Di Matteo but I don’t know how true that is.

“I’ve said to the chairman he’s got to look for someone who is young and hungry and wants to take the club forward.”

The Dons will also lose Ince’s trusted number two, assistant manager Ray Mathias, who travels to the Premiership side with him.

So what does Ince think of the Dons chances now he has gone?

“I think the Dons will not only survive but compete, whether it’s top two, top three or play-offs I really hope so,” he added. “I’ve said to the chairman, if you need any advice, if you need anything, if there’s any problems or issues just pick up the phone and I’ll try and help. I want to help Milton Keynes, I still want the club to go forward because it holds fond memories for me.”

Chairman Pete Winkelman said: “He has done such an immense job for us over the last 12 months.

“It is a sense of pride that he has gone to a big Premiership club because of the success that he had here.

“He has left a legacy... but we couldn’t stand in his way and I am sure that everyone in MK will be wishing him all the best of luck.”
